

STORIES FROM THE RICH PAST OF OUR PARISH

Last week our story was an article on our chimers.

This week I have found the Will of Ada Kaulbach and it relates to the Chimes.

Clause two of the will of Ada S. Kaulbach, Trustee: Royal Trust Company

I give and bequeath to my trustee herein after named, the sum of one thousand dollars to be invested in trust funds authorized by the Province of Nova Scotia, and direct that the annual income therefrom shall be first used for the repair and maintenance in first class condition of the chime of ten chimes and all apparatus given by my late husband to St. John's Episcopal Church of Lunenburg, and any balance remaining over shall be used as seen fit by my trustee for the maintenance of the Kaulbach Family Cemetery Lot in the Town of Lunenburg. My Trustee shall select and appoint a competent inspector in Lunenburg, other than the chimer, who shall go to the belfry once a year, during his term of office and make a thorough inspection of the bells and all apparatus, and report in writing to my trustee, and such an inspector shall receive a fee not more than five dollars for each said visit and report in writing to my trustee. My trustee shall have the power and authority to dismiss the inspector and to appoint a successor without being obliged to assign causes for any such a dismissal. He will make a new appointment and not be held liable in any action for dismissal of inspectors.

One would not get wealthy by being a chime inspector....
